Imperials and Arcanoes

👁 11 ✓ 0 ★ 1

Chapter 1 by Yutyut4

Once upon a time there was a man named Ryan delona. He was a good man. Wait that's not right. I don't think of him as a good man. And this is not one of those stories with a happy ending. The real GOOD man is a man named Carvam Arcano. Look stupid Ryan is the imperial leader, I HATE him. The Arcanoes though are the best! They want freedom, peace and fair judgement. The capital is on arloi mountain's peak. Though it's a desert mountain. The city is called by many people "the city of death" or "Death city". Both are very accurate because of the city's history. Before I tell you about that let me tell you about me and Locke. I am apart of the Light crusaders, that were leed by agent locke. Agent locke was a good man. He wore a black war suit. The helmet of the suit has a gold dome with a white skull painted on it. Though one day him and two crew members went to a abandoned province that might have salvage. Though later when the exit time was they did not appear at the pickup. We had the pickup team wait for an hour. It was a no show. Okay I live in death city's army housing. The base used to be a civil hospital. The hospital beds are used as personal areas. In the hospital there is one real patient. His name is Mark Swacving. He has skin as grey as a seal, scars everywhere on his body and a missing foot. He was attacked in the crisis of three. The reason he was there is because he is 92. Our army is rated by number, each person is a number. #1 is the highest. I, Marcus Saurdan, am pulled out guns and shot every soldier, guard and civilian down. The whole city was gunned down. The Arcanoes took the hospital that was in the town and turned it to a military base. Arcano civilians soon moved into the empty houses. The ARcanoes placed giant gates around the hospitals driveway. They called them "The great liberty gates". Since the whole hospitals had brick wall around it, the gates were the only way in. Then a man at rank 51 (number 51) went ahead and decided he would do something crazy. He decided he would go ahead and try to steal the 3 gems of power. Jonick and his peers thought it was a bad idea. Though he broke into the vault with the gems and took them. Though when he was on his way out, he was shot in the eye. Though the war suit he was wearing gave him life support. he came back almost unconscious and we fixed him up with stitches and emptied his eye socket. He did not tell us about the gems when he got to the hospital. He told us later and jonick had forced him out. He came back a few days later with a metal case in the empty eye socket. He opened a little glass door on the case and inserted the green gem. His hands seemed to change to extremely dry dirt. He opened his palm and rocks flew out at high speeds. The rocks hit a few mercenaries, but no one was killed. For a long time bloody war between 51's creations and the arcanoes. When it was almost over something happened. Jonick and Locke were out fighting 51's creations when they were sucked into the air. 51 was floating with them with a grim smile. The gems in his pocket flew out and so did the one in his socket. The sat in the middle of them. Then suddenly a voice said "51 I kill you for evil. Locke and Jonick, you shall not die of age for trying to stop evil.". 51 Shriveled up to a crisp and floated away. Then jonick and Locke were put back to the ground. that was known as the crisis of three. And then Locke went onto the mission and did not come back. When 51 was at war with us, he released something called the eagle's right. The eagles right would make it so all weapons and armor that was from the new era would be taken up by unkillable eagles. The eagles would carry the items and throw them into the earth's core. Though half of the weapons that were not being used were not get taken. So we now search for salvage also known as the new era's weapons. I right now am on a salvage mission. I'm in a big freight truck. Someone has put dimly lit lights on the top of the truck. I sit in the back, where usually cargo would be. The truck has 16 wheels that seem to be almost out of air. We are driving on an imperial highway, disguised as a truck transporting items to grocery store. We thought since we are in the back bullets into an mp5 cartridge. A walky talky on the sleeping man's leg starts to make noise. The man opens his eyes, pulls out his pistol and jumps up. He looks around and sits back down. He puts the pistol back in it's holder and pulls out the walky talky. He puts his mouth up to it and says "Okay. Unlock the doors and we will be out.". He turns toward the door and I see a patch on his arm. The patch is a skull with four stars around it and a red background. Under that patch there is another patch. Its says "KERNEL REVEL LARMI #68". "Get up everyone. We are here. We don't need to stay stealth, there is no one around right now. The man loading his guns mumbles and stands up. His patch with name says "PRIVATE HARLEY BURGUNDY". I stand up and get behind harley. Then the other man gets up and stands up behind me. I pull out my mgp 6 (mgp=machine gun power) (mg#=# of bullets shot every second.). I pull out a red dot sight from my tan backpack implanted in my suit. I set it on my mgp6's rail and tighten it. I set the place the dot needs to be on the sight. An extremely tall man opens the door from the outside. The man jumps in and grabs crates from the back that I had not noticed. He jumps off and puts the crates on the ground near the side of the truck. I step off the truck and see a faded billboard on the wall. It says "Join the imperial army! Do you really want an atomic bomb on your house?" With a picture of a happy family. There is a door that has a small sign next to it. The sign reads "Fallout shelter located in basement". AND on the other side of the door is a do not enter sign. I'm the first to try the door's handle. The door does not budge. I tell the Kernel and he waves to the tall man. The tall man grabs something from the truck's passenger seat. The item looks like a pistol but seems to have a glass piece at the end of the barrel. He hands it to the kernel. The kernel puts it against the doors hinge. He pulls the trigger and the hinge falls off. He does this with the 3 other hinges. He pokes the door and jumps back. The door comes clattering to the ground. On the other side of the door, the handle seems to welded to the door. We step inside. I see small holes in the ceiling that light the place up. I think it seems like one of those empty warehouses that you would see on tv. There is something spray painted on the wall. It says "O6 will be BACK". "Who is O6?" Private Harley asks. "he was on of the 2 men to go with agent locke on his last mission." Kernal said. I myself know enough from reading all of the records. He was a man who wore dropship armor that was blue and red. He was locke's best friend, most people say. He was with locke on that last mission. When locke was gone O6 was running everything.

bullet proof vest and a dark grey bandana. I pull out my mg6. Kernel and the two other men pull out their weapons. The man pulls out 2 worn pistols with extended magazines. The tall man walks in unarmed. The resistance man shoots two bullets into the tall man's head. The tall man falls to the ground. We start to fire at him. He ducks and starts to fire at us. We fire back. We've been told to only use 8 round bursts, but kernel seems to be spraying him with bullets. Though when we look over, the vest has taken half the shots. All the other shots had missed. While we reload the site private and shoots him in the neck. Private falls down. A man comes in from the door behind us. It looks to be the truck's driver. He has a glock 42 in his hand. He starts to fire. The driver shoots the man in the arm. The man starts to run. Kernel runs to tackle him, but the kernel was to slow. I look over and see the man had dropped 1 of the pistols. It has a symbol on it. The symbol is a falcon. "Hey kernel, have you seen this symbol before?" I ask the kernel. He walks over and looks down at it. "No, but I bet one of our record keepers at base might know." "Private Harley was a good man. I know you didn't know him, but I wish you did." Kernal said to me. "Well, I wish I did. We should get moving back to death city to report." I said. And with that we took a photo of the spray paint, put the bodies on the truck and got on and left. When we got back I could smell the usual smells of the base, gunpowder and motor oil. The base was very big with the driveway and yard as a social area with a few marketers and a bunch of soldiers talking. I see Jonick walking through the yard with 2 masked guards. He seems to be coming towards us. Kernel steps in front of me. "Did you find any items or salvage?" Jonick asks. "No, but we found this." Kernel says as he pulls out the phone to show jonick the picture. "Ah I see. We had another group go to a different factory, and they found the same words. I believe it to be a joke by a member of ours. Where are the other 2 men that i sent with you?" Jonick says. "Sadly we ran into a new resistance soldier. He killed the two of them. I shot him in the arm but he ran away. He dropped his pistol though. It had some falcon or eagle painted on it." Kernal said. Jonicks eyes got big. "Are you sure that's what you saw?" Jonick asks kernel. "Yes, we have it in the back of the truck." Kernel tells jonick. "Good I'd like you and whoever you are to come with me." Jonick tells us "I'm Marcus the specialist." I say to Jonick. I follow him along with kernel. He bring us to a room That was behind the base. I'd seen it before, but it was always guarded by a man in an all black dress suit. The guard opened the door. The was a very big computer in the locke is. Or just O6. The eagle is a symbol of the high members of the resistance. Having it on weapons means he's powerful. After he joined the resistance locke became his enemy. His name or his title is B087. We captured him once, but he disappeared the next day." Jonick said. The guard opened the door a man stepped in. it was O6. He took off his helmet. He had long black hair. "I've finally found you. It's time you launch the ark cannon on the imperials." O6 said. I've also not told you something else. There is a underground tower that when told to, can launch any bomb, missile or weapon. The tower is called ark. It requires a key that locke had to launch anything. "Locke gave me the key for you to activate the cannon. Though we need to be fast, or we may be attacked by the imperials legions and armies. There is no time to explain the past time. First we must launch" O6 hastily said. O6 handed Jonick a golden key with 3 triangles on it. One red, one green and one blue, I believe they represent the 3 gems. Jonick went up to the computer and pushed a few buttons. A compartment from the wall slid out. It had a very dusty glass box. Jonick opened the glass box. I could see inside. There was a keyhole. Jonick looked at O6. O6 nodded. Jonick put in the key and turned it. They stepped outside. A grass covered panel opened. A large circular tube rose up from the hole. The tube was a few hundred feet tall and had holes all over to release tension. The cannon started to have smoke roll out from the bottom holes. A Bomb flew out, breaking the sound barrier. The bomb seemed small because of how high it went in the sky. It looked like a jet flying through the sky but twice as fast. Then we heard a loud sound. The crashing of the bomb. It had landed on imperial soil and finished it's task. To explode, to kill, to destroy. We stepped back inside the room with the launcher. Jonick and O6 walked up to the computer. Jonick brought up an imperial news channel. They were showing a man with a camera out a green news truck's window. The capitol was in green flames. Though we saw one thing in the corner of a screen. A man, running. He looked like a shadow though he had a glow on his head. A golden glow. Then O6 said "That must be locke. He was trapped with me. Since he was apart of one of the experimental war suit projects, he survived the blast.. "Wait, what?! Locke is alive?" I yelled. "Wait you didn't know? I thought he contacted you? He's been alive in the cell next to mine for years. He said he contacted you a while ago." O6 said. "Well we did not get contacted at all." Jonick said. "Well he should be here in a day. His great speed and suit will carry him here at high speed." O6 said. I knew at that moment that the didn't do any missions, or even try to salvage. We just cleaned the base for Locke. We just waited for him to come to the base. Everyone was in a happy mood knowing where Locke and O6 were, well at least O6. We waited and cleaned. Though on the 5th day I went to the salvage market. This was where they sold salvage they didn't really need. I looked and one thing stood out to me. There was a stationary heavy weapon that had had the tripod sawed off. The stall worker let me hold it. It was heavy, but not unbearable. I could easily use it on the front line in war. The price was low because they had no ammo for it. So I went ahead and bought the thing. It was hard to carry back to my room, well at least looking like I was going to massacre everyone. When I put it in my room I O6. So I went ahead and bought the thing. It was hard to carry back to my room, well at least looking like I was going to massacre everyone. When I put it in my room I gO6. The eagle is a symbol of the high members of the resistance. Having it on weapons means he’s powerful. After he joined the resistance Locke became his enemy. His name or his title is B087. We captured him once, but he disappeared the next day.” Jonick said. The guard opened the door a man stepped in. it was O6. He took off his helmet. He had long black hair. “ I’ve finally found you. It’s time you launch the ark cannon on the imperials.” O6 said. I’ve also not told you something else. There is a underground tower that when told to, can launch any bomb, missile or weapon. The tower is called ark. It requires a key that Locke had to launch anything. “Locke gave me the key for you to activate the cannon. Though we need to be fast, or we may be attacked by the imperials legions and armies. There is no time to explain the past time. First we must launch” O6 hastily said. O6 handed Jonick a golden key with 3 triangles on it. One red, one green and one blue, I believe they represent the 3 gems. Jonick went up to the computer and pushed a few buttons. A compartment from the wall slid out. It had a very dusty glass box. Jonick opened the glass box. I could see inside. There was a keyhole. Jonick looked at O6. O6 nodded. Jonick put in the key and turned it. They stepped outside. A grass covered panel opened. A large circular tube rose up Jonick brought up an imperial news channel. They were showing a man with a camera out a green news truck's window. The capitol was in green flames. Though we saw one thing in the corner of a screen. A man, running. He looked like a shadow though he had a glow on his head. A golden glow. Then O6 said "That must be Locke. He was trapped with me. Since he was apart of one of the experimental war suit projects, he survived the blast.. "Wait, what?! Locke is alive?" I yelled. "Wait you didn't know? I thought he contacted you? He's been alive in the cell next to mine for years. He said he contacted you a while ago." O6 said. "Well we did not get contacted at all." Jonick said. "Well he should be here in a day. His great speed and suit will carry him here at high speed." O6 said. I knew at that moment that the war between us and the imperials was not over. Since the imperial king had probably died, his son or daughter would take his place. But wait, he had both a son and daughter, that were born together! "Sir, I was wondering. If the imperial king is dead, then which of his children will get to be crowned?" I asked outloud. "well the way the imperials have it is if more than one child, both children get to be crowned. To them, 2 heads is better than one. Though the children are only 20." O6 tells me. "Well then they will have a long rule then." Jonick said. The next few days we didn't do any missions, or even try to salvage. We just cleaned the base for Locke. We just waited for him to come to the base. Everyone was in a happy mood knowing where Locke and O6 were, well atleast O6. We waited and cleaned. Though on the 5th day i went to the salvage market. This was where they sold salvage they didn't really need. I looked and one thing stood out to me. There was a stationary heavy weapon that had had the tripod sawed off. The stall worker let me hold it. It was heavy, but not unbearable. I could easily use it on the front line in war. The price was low because they had no ammo for it. A large circular tube rose up from the hole. The tube was a few hundred feet tall and had holes all over to release tension. The cannon started to have smoke roll out from the bottom holes. A Bomb flew out, breaking the sound barrier. The bomb seemed small because of how high it went in the sky. It looked like a jet flying through the sky but twice as fast. Then we heard a loud sound. The crashing of the bomb. It had landed on imperial soil and finished it's task. To explode, to kill, to destroy. We stepped back inside the room with the launcher.
